

Episcopal Diocese of Rochester

Deacon Josh is a recent graduate of Virginia Theological Seminary, where he completed his Master of Divinity with a certificate in Christian Spirituality. He is also a graduate of Roberts Wesleyan College with a degree in Social Work. Raised up by St. Luke's, Brockport, he comes to ordained ministry with youth ministry and summer camp leadership experience. You can expect to find him on his days off in a coffee shop or swinging away on his hammock somewhere in the woods. He loves history, old books, and a quality cup of coffee. Josh is a lover of people's stories and looks forward to the privilege of discovering what God is up to in Steuben County.
